

(clockwise from top left): Mary uses a computer terminal at Caltech with Stephen Caine (Head of Programming Systems) in 1967; Mary at her SDRC desk in 1992; Mary receives the Distinguished Alumni Award from David Ward (Provost) at UW-Madison in 1992; Mary at ATA in front of an image of the Curiosity rover after its successful landing on Mars in 2012.

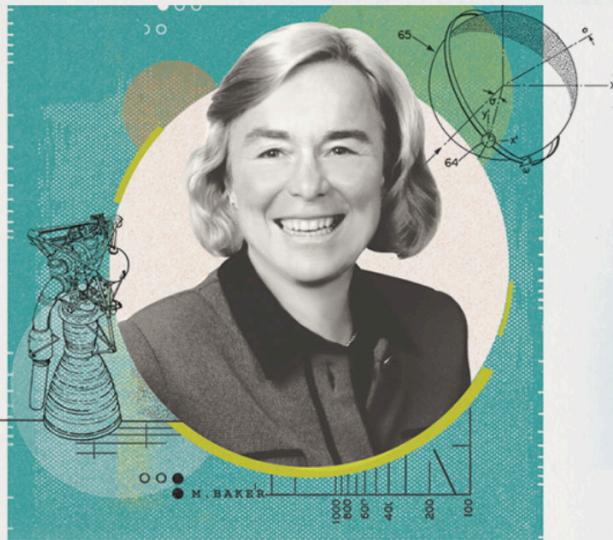

MARY BAKER (MS '67, PHD '72)

2014

President, ATA Engineering Inc.

For pioneering entrepreneurship and leadership in aerospace. Baker founded ATA Engineering Inc., a prominent, employee-owned provider of analysis and test-driven design solutions for mechanical and aerospace systems.

(top to bottom): Mary accepts the George M. Low award for ATA at JPL with Charles Elachi (JPL Director), Dave Hunt (ATA VP), Charles Bolden (NASA Administrator), and Eugene Tattini (JPL Deputy Director) in 2013; graphic honoring Mary as a distinguished alumna of Caltech in 2014; Mary is inducted into the National Academy of Engineering in Washington DC by Gordon R. England (Chair) and John L. Anderson (President) in 2019.

